MY MEMORIAL DAY

What I thought was going to be a terrible day turned out to be one of my best. Sunday night the winds came and blew branches down, knocked over 3 sections of wood fence + gate. Monday morning I must awake early and I did, clean up the mess, mend the fence, and oh crap I forgot about the Bullpen. So this is how I must spend my hard earned day off. Then around 3 in the afternoon I decides to take me a hard earned break and sit down in front of the tube, well the Cubs are on with my man Dempster pitching. Uh oh top of the 6th bases loaded, 1 out and I thought here we go again because I've seen this too many times this year. Yuppee he strikes out Dewitt and the next batter pops out, he gets through the 7th, Howry the 8th, Wood the 9th and Bam! a 3-1 Win for the Bears. So hi ho hi ho it's back to work I go feeling much better about the day. After a couple more hours of sweat and labor I decides to take another break and check on the ol stattracker, Utley steps in with men on 2nd and 3rd no outs, the count goes to 2 and 1, and then that long pause, you know when your watching stats and that next pitch doesn't come up forever and then Bam! Homerun and all is right with the world. The moral of the story, no matter what goes wrong, baseball makes it right, especially if your Team is on its way to a 100 pt. night.

The Blues Train keeps on rolling with Hamilton, Gomez, Pedroia, McCann and Volquez this team is young and on fire. Like Bob says you've got to go young, that's why he drafted Chris and Delmon and why I wanted Braun and Hamilton. Mitch stunned me by taking Braun and I sat on Hamilton too long. Like Dick Cheney says you got to pull that trigger son no matter what the consequences. I'm sorry enough politics, Hey what do you call 1,000 Republicans chained together at the bottom of the sea, of course a good start.

Although the Blues are hot the Cubs are hanging in there, with the Brothers-in-law fighting for the money, sorry not you Dave the other Brothers-in-law. At the close of the week there is less than 100 pts. separating the 5th place Wahoos from the 11th place Tigers and no one completely out of it. Here's a look at last weeks Pts.

THE WEEK THAT WAS
1	Cubs	589.2
2	Redbirds	534.0
3	Bears	518.9
4	Blues	516.4
