1995	July 7	Denver	Coors Field	Rockies	Expos	12-7	Juan Acevedo	Gil Heredia	None	Shawn Berry Mike Lansing Shane Andrews Larry Walker Andres Galarraga Vinny Castilla (2)	None	Larry Walker Andres Galarraga Moises Alou Vinny Castilla
Highlights: The Rockies made this a laugher with 4 runs in the bottom of the first and 4 more in the bottom of the second. After chasing Expos starter Gil Heredia in the first with 6 hits and a walk and 4 earned runs (and no outs), the Rockies next beat up on reliever Gabe White by clubbing three consecutive home runs, the first one a two-run shot by Larry Walker, the second a solo shot by the Big Cat, and the final blow being a line drive whistler by Vinny Castilla that just barely cleared One Way Tony's head in the left field stands, following which our hero Tony willed himself to sobriety so as to enjoy the rest of the evening.
1995	July 8	Denver	Coors Field	Rockies	Expos	8-3	Armanda Reynoso	Butch Henry	Curt Leskanic	Shane Andrews Vinny Castilla (2) Eric Young		Ellis Burks Dante Bichette Wil Cordero
Highlights: Vinny picked up where he left off on Friday night by drilling a two-run shot off Butch Henry in the bottom of the second to put the Rockies ahead 2-0. He added a solo shot in the eighth off one of the Perez boys to give him twin shots in consecutive games. Reynoso pitched 7-2/3 innings of five-hit ball, giving up two earned runs for the win while Curt Leskanic pitched the final 1-1/3 innings for a cheap save.
1995	July 9	Denver	Coors Field	Rockies	Expos	4-1	Marvin Freeman	Pedro Martinez		Wil Cordero Eric Young Dante Bichette Larry Walker John Vander Wal	Pedro Martinez
Highlights: In his Hot Stove League debut, Pedro Martinez gave up three home runs (Young, Bichette and Walker) in six innings of work, yielding only 5 hits and walking one while striking out 6, to take the loss and go to 6-and-5. Freeman pitched seven innings of 5-hit shutout ball, with no walks and four strikeouts, to take the win for the Rockies. In a game in which all five runs scored were on solo home runs, the visiting Expos outthit the Rockies 7-6 but came out on the underside of the final score. Moises Alou put forth maximum effort while going 4 0 0 0.
2000	June 3	Houston	Enron Field	Astros	White Sox	6-1	Chris Holt	Kip Wells		Carlos Lee Richard Hidalgo	Jeff Bagwell	Frank Thomas Magglio Ordonez Craig Biggio Ken Caminiti
Highlights: The Hot Stove Leaguers were treated to an interleague match-up between the Houston Astros and the Chicago White Sox in the brand-spanking new Enron Field in downtown Houston, matching starting pitchers Kip Wells and Chris Holt. After a scoreless pitchers' duel for 4-1/2 innings, the hometown Astros pushed across two runs in the bottom of the fifth to take the lead, and a two-run dinger in the bottom of the sixth by Richard Hidalgo gave the Astros some additional insurance. The lone run for the White Sox came in the top of the seventh inning with Carlos Lee hit a solo shot off Astros pitcher Holt, who went eight innings and gave up only a single run to take the victory against the White Sox. One-Way Tony made a guest appearance on the HSL trip and led the Hot Stove Leaguers to multiple refreshment stands at the ballpark and on a cultural tour of the Houston Ballet on Saturday night.
2000	June 4	Houston	Enron Field	Astros	White Sox	3-7	Mike Sirotko	Octavio Dotel		Ray Durham Chris Singleton Richard Hidalgo Daryl Ward	Jeff Bagwell	Ray Durham Paul Konerko Lance Berkman Jose Valentin
Highlights: The visiting Pale Hose jumped on then-Astros starter Octavio Dotel for an early lead, with the first batter of the game, Ray Durham, going Yard on Hidalgo. In the second inning, it was more of the same as Singleton went Yard off Hidalgo to give the White Sox a 2-0 lead. After the Astros scored a single tally in the bottom of the second, the White Sox exploded for three runs in the top of the third, including a double by Konerko, and held on to the lead the rest of the way, prevailing by a final score of 7-3.
